*Two concepts important to mankind
are TIME and ETERNITY.
Each finds its highest fulfillment
when dedicated to God.*

TIME

What is time? The striking of the clock,—day and night, summer and winter, months, years, centuries—these are but arbitrary and outward signs, the measure of time, not time itself. Time is the life of the soul.

—Longfellow.

Dr. B. Joseph Martin

As new members of the Taylor family, Dr. and Mrs. B. Joseph Martin and Mother Duryea have already endeared themselves to students, faculty, and staff. Dr. Martin's gracious personal interest, efficient executive ability, and devout spiritual pursuits combine to enhance his position as president of Taylor University.

Dr. Milo A. Rediger, Academic Dean and Vice-President, possesses the wisdom, skill and spiritual insight, required in Christian leaders. As interim president, he successfully guided Taylor's first semester.

Students admire and respect him for his dedication to the high standards he holds for Taylor.

ADMINISTRATION

Interest in individual students characterizes friendly Dr. William D. Green, Dean of Students. His understanding, fairness, and discretion enable him to master his responsibilities. Not only do students receive advice concerning their problems, but they also find Dr. Green a Christian educator worthy of confidence.

Mr. Paul D. Keller efficiently controls the finances of Taylor. The Business Manager's responsibilities include supervising the income and expenditures of the college.

Friendly and capable, our Registrar and Director of Admissions, Mr. E. Sterl Phinney, admits new students and keeps the record of each student's academic progress.

Mr. David C. LeShana, Director of Public Relations, cultivates the interest and good will of the public through his imagination, enthusiasm, and tact.

As Alumni Executive Secretary and Director of Publicity, Mr. Wilbur Cleveland helps the alumni keep in touch with the school and presents the school's activities to the world.

Although he often finds it necessary to be off campus representing the university, Mr. Robert Klemm, Public Relations Representative, stands for Taylor—its traditions and its future.

LIBRARY FACULTY

An essential part of college, the library is center for study and research. Aiding us in our search for truth are the librarians, Miss Marcella Fuller, Miss Alice Holcombe, and Miss Lois Weed.

A treasure house of books—the Ayres Alumni Memorial library.

BUILDINGS

Three pillars mutely guard the smoking ruins of the "Ad" building.

Flames escort Taylor's historic landmark into the past.

The center of intellectual activity during long, studious days and evenings is the Ayres-Alumni Memorial Library.

Helena Music Hall is the second home of music majors.

Now, a building-of-all trades, the Education Building houses the prayer chapel and the new chemistry lab.

Magee-Campbell-Wisconsin Dormitory contributes to the women their experiences in community living.

Sturdy "nest" of sophomore men, Swallow-Robin Dormitory is lovingly nicknamed the "Bird Barn."

Camp Atterbury makes its contribution to campus housing.

Viewed from the ruins of the past, the future beckons.

Some "frosting" of campus life:
the Post Office, Bookstore, and Grill.

Fellows burn the midnight oil in Morris Hall.

Maytag is the center of the athletic program.

In a few years, "Operation Emergency" will make the ancient Science Building a memory.

Referees move in on the frenzy of action as the gridders fight "tooth and nail" for that precious foot of yardage. Heads-up play, coupled with steadfast determination and drive, enabled the Trojans to attain one of the best football records in Taylor history.

Trouble lurks ahead for blocker Sam Delcamp as he clears a path for runner Ron VanDam.

Senior co-captains, Dave Adams and Jim King, sparked the Trojans to a successful season on the gridiron.

'59-60 SEASON

Taylor's Trojans finished the 1959-60 basketball season with a record of 18 victories and 10 losses. In Hoosier College Conference play they amassed a 5-5 record to tie with Anderson and Franklin for third place.

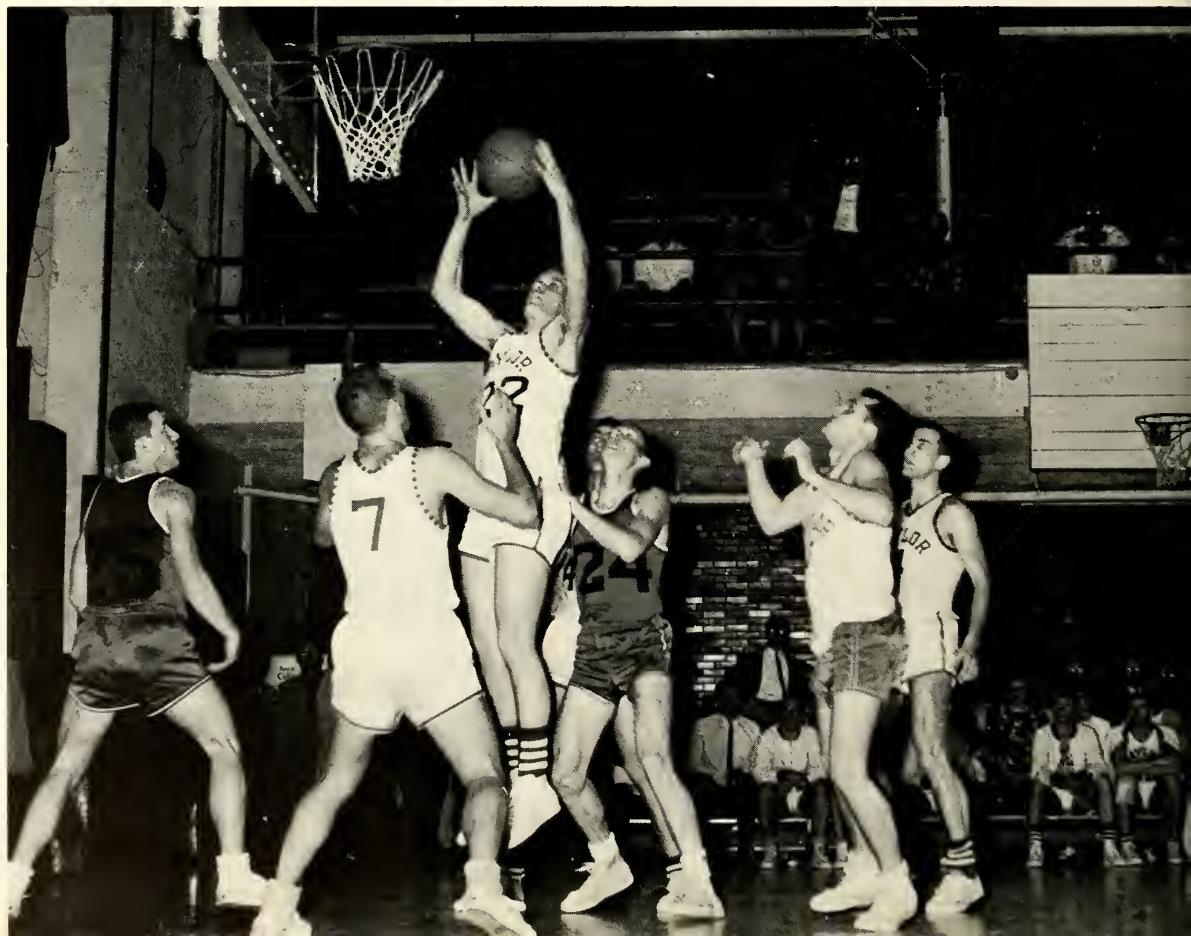

Copping both the Taylor Turney and the Chanute A. F. B. Tournament, the team furnished their partisans with lots of action-packed play. The Trojans averaged 81.3 points per game while allowing their opponents an average of 73.7 points.

Roger Jenkinson, captain of the predominantly sophomore squad, is the only graduating senior of the team—adding to high expectations for the coming season.

FALL & SPRING REVIVALS

Fall and spring revivals highlight the spiritual emphasis encouraged at Taylor. By deepening our faith in Christ and by challenging us to live more Christ-like lives, each revival stimulates spiritual growth.

"Revive us again" sings the challenge of the spring revival.

Dr. Wengatz inspired us with a vivid picture of the mission field.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Dr. Wengatz placed the responsibility of the perishing world squarely on the Taylor students. During the week Dr. and Mrs. Wengatz held separate group sessions for men and women.

A slave has but one responsibility - to do what he is told to do.

A free man has one responsibility - to choose what he will do.

Action without choice is much the simpler plan of life. The slave is secure. He has no qualms of conscience. He need not trouble himself about right and wrong.
He lives in an amoral state. He has peace - not peace of mind but without mind.

The free man must judge all things. So the more he knows, the larger his freedom.
The larger his freedom the greater his responsibility. The greater his responsibility the more he can accomplish.

The Taylor Alumni Association is proud to welcome the Class of '60 into its membership. We are confident that you have been trained academically and spiritually to assume your share of responsibility in the Christian enterprise and to reflect credit upon the college of which you will always be a part.

We wish you God's best, and rich satisfaction as you enter your chosen field of service.
